

Warning: Discontinued Products.

We would like to remind you that starting in September 2020, SATO will no longer supply the spare and wear parts for some of our discontinued printer models such as M84xxSe & S84xx.

However, we will continue to respond to requests until we run out of inventory. Repairs within the framework of RMA will only be honored if our repair workshops still have the necessary spare parts, but without any guarantee on our part. Otherwise, you will be notified, as well as your SATO sales representative, to consider an alternative solution.

As noted, we will no longer be able to provide support beyond the dates mentioned, including service contracts that you may have had with your clients.

Any spare part supplied after this date will receive the standard SATO warranty subject to the spare parts availability.

If you have any questions, please contact your SATO Sales Representative today. Thank you for your understanding.
